Ft. Walton X-MAS JAM BY: Bail Breath

The Contest was on the Ft. Walton RAMP. We arrived about 11:30, the contest was starting at 12:00. Not very many people were ready so it was postponed until 1:00. From the statements of a few skaters the Ramp wasn't the Best, but does it really matter?

There were about 30 skaters in a heavy shake session. Most of TEAM SS was there. Greg Bloodsworth was ripped until he hurt his ankle. L.K. was hitting a few people with R+R sliders. Shorty was all over yelling + complaining about anything.

The contest started at one, exactly.
Beginners: Lots of ~~nervous~~ skaters, some good tricks. Jam was too long. Team SS was being real Loud.

Intermediate: Kipo was tearing along with Shorty. Everybody skated good. Some of TEAM SS was Breakdancing (?) in the corner of the yard. Shorty was asked why they really call him Shorty!!

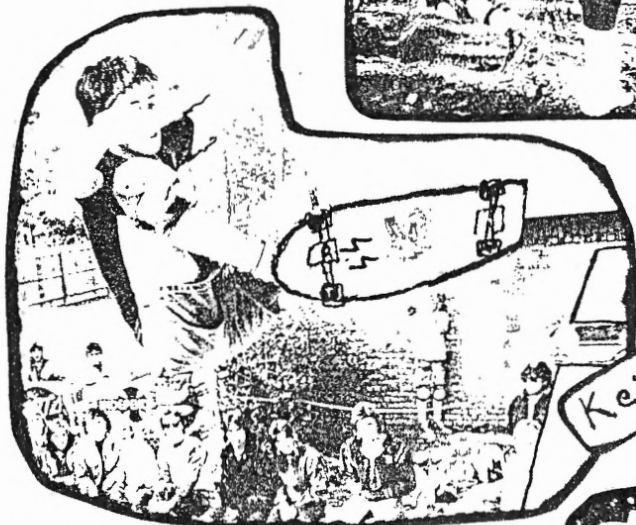

Advanced: Everyone ripped. Russel Fell Hard. Scott Lewis skated good, he should have placed better.

After the contest prizes were awarded. Sticker toss. Team SS went to go see Vision Skate Video. Then Went Home.

Friday 11:00 L.K. called Schmitt's place, for directions? to the RAMP. We finally found the RAMP.
We Skated!

SATURDAY: Group Practice Sessions.

Sunday: Good skating in contest. Afterwards

Monday: Photo session 10:30 iWe missed it.

Picked up Don Myre went to Bro Bowl, fight broke out. We left. NEXT we went to some open lot + fixed Mike Hectic's car. 4 hours! Went to RAMP; it's chained, went to eat, Videos, Sleep.

Tuesday - We finally left Tampa, stopped in Gainesville to Skate a small ramp.

Sam Myre tears on small ramps! I don't see how he does it. Mike Hectic Invented a new trick it's called the

"KILLER FLIP". It's hard to explain; an Invert using your head insted of your hand. I guess. Anyway its great!
